

"How to read Korean alphabets Hangul"

Let's learn reading Hangul in English and make a step ahead to be a trilingual!

7/29 (Wed) or 8/5 (Wed) 4:20- 5:20pm

Instructor: TAKASU Fugo, Dept. Environmental Science, NWU

Hangul is very easy to learn!

Learning 10 vowels and 14 consonants and their combinations is enough!

Even if you don't understand Korean language at all, you will understand some (or many) Korean words if you can read Hangul. This is because some Korean words are derived from Chinese and have similar sounds to Japanese. If you are interested in either Korean or English (or both), this is the perfect opportunity for you!

- ※ This event will be held via Cisco Webex.
- ※ We will conduct the same event both on July 29th and August 5th, so please join either day.

◎E-mail us! (By 12:00pm the day before the event)

- iec@cc.nara-wu.ac.jp (International Exchange Center)
- Title: 「Hangul Event」 参加希望
- Including: Name, Major, Year, E-mail address, Which day you want to join (July 29th or August 5th)

Read the QR code
To send an email easily!

